Special Notices.

To the Editor of The Tribune.—Sir: A communication referred to "Trinity Church Vestrymen," addressed to me, appears in your paper this morning. The writer tenches his name. I will ask you to publish this note, and to state the gentleman's name at least, so that his name may be properly appreciated. If any further similar communications are sent to you I beg leave to suggest to the president of your requiring the writer's name being affixed to publication: that would have saved the necessity of this note. It was only to further "official notice" of the Vestry, that I offered to show re-spectuation.—New York, Feb. 25. J. BOEDMAN.

The following names have been furnished to THE TRIBUNE as responsible for the communication referred to in the above note:

To the Stockholders of THE ASSOCIATION FOR THE EDUCATION OF VETERANS IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

The undersigned will inform the public of the partial want of space which has till far attended your enterprises, and of the wish felt by some of you to place in the hands of your printed matter, a copy of my paper, before its appearance, before you make your publications. I hope my paper will be of service to you on Tuesday evening to report their movements for directions for the ensuing year, & to give you a general account of the wants of our country. Your name and address will be given in the paper, so that you may be easily found and addressed to reach you by ordinary means. I therefore beg leave to communicate to you, through the channel by which I received information, my paper.

Yours truly, The Crystal Palace and its appearances, out and out at a fair price, to be settled between us on further and more complete communication, provided you can assign to me your name and address.

On Wednesday, I will purchase the whole or a major part of the stock provided that, in the later case, the management of the Exhibition shall be placed in my hands.

It will be my pleasure to continue the exhibition for the same general purposes as heretofore, but in a way to satify satisfactory pecuniary results. I am ready to give you a full account of what has been done, and shall be glad to talk commercially with you more fully than I can do, before you can make your views; but as your Circular is on Tuesday evening to report their movements for directions for the ensuing year, & to give you a general
account of the wants of our country. Your name and address will be given in the paper, so that you may be easily found
